

Social Work, AAS

School Art, Humanities, Social Sciences and Public Service

The Social Work program is designed to provide students with the knowledge base for the profession and general skills to enter into the workforce and/or transfer to a bachelor's program. Students who want to pursue a career in social work have a sincere concern for others, ability to motivate others and desire to make a change in the world. The program allows for classroom instruction about the field including networking with agency workers in the area and learning about available programs. The program includes the opportunity to spend one semester in an agency where the skills and knowledge acquired in the classroom will be applied. The student will also earn general education credits that will apply to a bachelor's program.

Career Opportunities

Students who complete this program of study may be employed as entry-level case aides or caseworkers, resident counselors in youth and adult programs and other entry-level human services and social work positions in the community. Students in this program are usually interested in working in the fields of child welfare, counseling, adoption, drug and alcohol, healthcare, mental health, aging, community organization, politics and race relations.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon successfully completing this program, students will be able to:

- Identify societal issues and their impact on vulnerable populations and advocate for at-risk populations at the micro, mezzo, and macro level.
- Conduct assessments, identify strengths, create action plans, counsel on an individual and group level, and provide case management for at-risk populations.
- Provide culturally competent services and adhere to the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics.
- Use knowledge of the history of the social work profession and analysis of social policy to create change.
- Analyze how political, community, and societal structures affect social service programs and funding.
- Express self-awareness, personal values, and attitudes about self in relation to others and identify self-care strategies.
